

WESTERLY HAS A FARRAR ROBBER

"Skete" Allen, Former Baseball Player, Fought With Jailor and Escaped Half-Hour After Being Locked Up For Thefts—Support of Local Hospital is Again an Agitated Question—Automobiles Steering Gear Went Wrong.

Thomas, alias "Skete" Allen, the well known local baseball player, who has developed into a highwayman and till robber, who robbed the Legalla boy in an ice cream wagon last Tuesday night in Lower Pawcatuck, and who robbed the money drawer in the Riasca store in Mechanic street Wednesday night, was captured at Watch Hill Sunday night by Deputy Sheriff William H. Casey and locked up in the Pawcatuck police station, left in charge of a keeper, and soon thereafter made his escape. Since the highway robbery the police of the two adjoining villages, Pawcatuck and Westerly, have been on the lookout for Allen, and Sheriff Casey has been on his trail most of the time.

Last Friday night Sheriff Casey received information that Allen had been seen in the vicinity of the Halcyn house at Watch Hill. In order to escape observation, the sheriff went to Pawcatuck in his automobile and then went by boat across Little Narragansett bay to the Halcyn house, only to learn that Allen had been there, but had gone about fifteen minutes before without knowledge of the sheriff's coming, but in order to get rid of the objectionable caller the sheriff told Allen that the police were after him and advised him to get out, and he went. The sheriff made vain search for Allen in the vicinity of the Halcyn house.

Sunday night Sheriff Casey made another visit to Watch Hill, and had reason to believe that Allen was in the Lanphere restaurant. He placed an assistant at the rear and another in front, and then went into the restaurant, and was informed by the proprietor that Allen was not in the place. The sheriff then went out of the front door and spotted Allen in a room in the rear. Allen started on a run through the dining room, but was captured by Sheriff Casey before he could reach the street. The sheriff handcuffed Allen and took him by automobile to the Pawcatuck police station. Allen had two revolvers, which Sheriff Casey took possession of. After taking Allen's coat and hat from him he was put in a cell.

Thomas Totten was placed in charge, Sheriff Casey giving him strict orders not to open the cell door under any circumstance and to keep a close watch on the prisoner. The sheriff had not been away from the station fifteen minutes when Allen asked for a bucket, such as are usually in prison cells for the purpose of Totten complied with the request. He raised the lock-bar to the cell and was about to partially open the door to hand the bucket to Allen when Allen forced the door wide open, and then Allen put up a fight for freedom. Just as the door opened Allen struck Totten squarely in the face and the men clinched. Outside the building fully one hundred young men and boys had congregated, and the men in the windows the fight could be plainly seen. Totten shouted to those on the outside to summon Sheriff Casey, and a young fellow did so. Totten was then he was tripped and warned to mind his own business. Those on the outside shouted "It's him, Skete," "Kill him, Skete," and the like.

All this time the men inside were in a fierce struggle, during which Totten's left foot got caught in the rungs of a chair. Allen got hold of the chair and twisted Totten's leg. He then got hold of a part of a billiard table which happened to be near, and with this he struck Totten over the head several times and rendered him unconscious. Allen then relieved Totten of his pocketbook, which contained only 35 cents, and made his escape. The doors of the building were locked and the main windows barred. But just one of the row of iron cells was a small open window, used for ventilation. Allen climbed to the top of the cell, when through this window and dropped 12 feet to the ground, surrounded by a big crowd of his sympathizers. They cheered as "Skete" landed several yards from the cell. Allen was a spry fellow, three cuts in the top of the head and a few scratches on the face and neck, and his right hand shows the impress of Allen's teeth. He says that Allen, if recaptured, will show some signs of the encounter, and declares that his foot had not become entangled in the chair Allen would not have escaped.

Sheriff Casey had worked diligently on the case for several days and nights before capturing Allen, and feels sorely for the prisoner's escape, but he immediately resumed his duties for the fugitive and will make every effort to effect a recapture.

Summer residents of Charlestown Beach are interested in the laying out of a new road along the beach lot east of the present road and containing a connecting strip and are to take the matter up with the town council of Charlestown and the council of Narragansett Pier. The proposed road would, if continued to that point, afford a way along the beach for the highway.

Simple Home Remedy For Wrinkled Faces

(From Fashion Monthly)

Thousands of women are spending fortunes in their frantic efforts to remove the signs of premature age from their faces. When in this state of mind a woman will spend almost any amount of money on worthless wrinkle removers, of which there are many.

If these women only knew it, the most effective remedy imaginable is a simple, harmless face wash which can be made up at home in less than a minute. They have only to get an ounce of powdered exfolite and half a pint of witch hazel at the drug store and mix the two. Apply this daily as a refreshing lotion. The effect is almost magical. Even after the first treatment a marked improvement is noticed and the face has a snug, firm feeling that is most pleasing.

You, too, can wash your light dresses and pretty laces clean without injuring them by rubbing.

Persil, the Wonderful New Washing Compound, brings Oxygen to the Wash Tub to do Woman's Work for Her.

Persil takes the place of the washboard and hours of back breaking drudgery. Two tablespoonfuls of this Oxygen Washing Compound cuts the time it takes to do a heavy washing in half—it cuts out labor altogether.

Persil dissolves dirt, removes stains, takes out grease spots and gives to all clothes a cleanness that they haven't known since they came from the store.

Clothes washed with Persil have a sweetness that lingers. After hanging a few days in the linen closet they do not have the soapy smell you've often deplored in all soap washed clothes.

Persil makes clothes sanitary and hygienically clean. Will not affect colors or injure the hands or any fabric.

Persil comes in two size packages, 15 and 25 cents.

The Quarter Box is Worth a Dollar to you in Work Saved, Time Saved, Clothes Saved. With Persil there is no rubbing, no wear on clothing or hands. You may wear your clothes out in time, but you can not ruin them by washing them again and again with Persil.

Ask your grocer for Persil. If he hasn't it, he will get it for you.
